Since the novel was first published in 1932, Brave New World has remained a classic in literature and has been read in secondary schools around the world. This 9-unit course introduces students not only to this important novel, but provides an insight into the life of the author, Aldous Huxley. Through the completion of weekly worksheets, students will be able to understand the important concepts that Huxley developed as well as several psychological conceptualizations that appear in the book. This interactive text provides links for students to learn more about the concepts and terms used and a course syllabus, unit schedule, a grade book, questions for all 18 chapters, and a chapter questions key is included.
